LOCAL AND GENERAL NEWS.

Good Times.

According to reports received by the Illinois State Board of Agriculture there has been a larger per cent of the wheat threshed in this State than usual for August 1, and the measure at the machine justifies the placing of the average yield for the State at 17 bushels per acre. Taking the crop as a whole, the quality of the berry is as good, if not superior to that of any crop ever raised in the State. This fact explains largely the increased yield per acre, the heads being unusually large and well filled. The great amount of rainfall during the period that the berry was in the milk prevented the insect from doing much injury, even in the counties where there was the most alarm on this account. Other crops are good corn only, in this neighborhood, will fall somewhat below last year's immense crop. The prospects for a good fall business are excellent.

General Illinois News.

It takes $27,500 to run the city of Champaign one year.

Abe McKinney, a well known resident of Logan county, died at Mt. Pulaski Tuesday night.

The Lincoln roller mill will ship 10,000 barrels of flour to England and Scotland next week.

Frank Hart and Miss Dee Wilson, well known young people of Penn, were married Wednesday.

More than $20,000 has been subscribed in Joliet to secure the location there of the Rathbone, Sard & Co., stove works.

Isaac D. Frye of Rockford died Wednesday. Before his last illness he weighed 422½ pounds. He had never walked without crutches, having been a cripple since he was 18 months old.

Illinois Firemen's Association.

The first annual tournament of the Illinois Firemen's Association will be held at the fair grounds at Clinton, Ill., Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, September 24, 25 and 26. The State championship hose, hook and ladder badges, besides ample cash prizes for hose, hook and ladder racing, ladder climbing, lasso coupling, foot racing, hand contest, foot drills, etc., will be competed for and the Clinton people are making arrangements to entertain a large number.

The Chicago Races.

The trotting meeting to be given by the North Western Trotting and Pacing Horse Breeders at Washington Park, Chicago, August 19 to 24, the opening of the fourth week and third of the year. The races commence on Monday and continue the entire week. The best horses known to the turf will compete, embracing the stakes of $1,000 each, John R. Gentry, Jay Eye See, Maud S., Nancy Hanks, Belle Vara, Sunol, Mattie Hunter, Jay Bird, John Dickerson, Rody Patterson, C. W. Williams, etc. The number of entries to the different classes over 200 have never been equaled by any association in America. Excursion rates on all roads from Buffalo to the Pacific coast must have been secured. The park is the handsomest in the world, and accommodations for 50,000 best in America. Good to have tracks. Also, the phenomenal three year old, Nelson, at Washington Park, and will be driven for the championship. Wilkes city ticket to Chicago and return, $15, made by him at Cleveland, Ohio. Everything will be done by the Association to make the visit of such patrons and guests one of pleasure.

The Verdict Unanimous.

W. D. Suit, Druggist, Epping, Ind., testifies: "I can recommend Electric Bitters as the very best remedy. Every bottle sold has given relief in every case. One man took six bottles, and was cured of Rheumatism of 10 years' standing." Abraham Hare, druggist, Belleville, Ohio, adds: "The best selling medicine I have ever handled. In my 20 years' experience with Medicines, I have never known their equal, or one that gave such universal satisfaction. We don't see how they can make it for the price." Thousands of others have left their testimony to the wonderful merits of these Bitters. Sold at 50c. per bottle by W. H. Maple & Co.'s Drug Store.

A Leading Show Coming.

Among the many leading shows that of Wallace & Co.'s will be the most popular. Arrangements are being rapidly completed for the coming engagement, which will be one of the most successful ever given in Decatur. Monday, August 19th, there will be no exception to the immensely large patronage which this company has received on former occasions. The new and startling programme is composed of numerous features and curiosities, will be sure to be appreciated by the community.

The foreign trade of the port of New York in July, both in exports and imports was much larger than it was in the same month last year and the exports were about 20 per cent in excess of the imports. An about two thirds of the foreign commerce of the United States passes through the port of New York, this element of the country's trade, in the aggregate, is undoubtedly greater than it was last year at this time.

Detroit furnishes about nine tenths as much merchandise to Central and South America as the United States does. This is a condition of things which should not be allowed to continue. This country ought to sell as much goods to the nations of this Continent as Great Britain and will do it if Congress takes as much interest in the matter as it should.

WHISKEY BARRED OUT.

No Booze at the State Fair at Peoria.

At the meeting of the State Board of Agriculture held at Peoria this week, the principal question of general public interest acted upon was the liquor question. It was decided by a unanimous vote not to allow the sale of beer or other intoxicating drink on the grounds. It was also voted to purchase flags to float from the flag staffs of the various buildings. An important matter was brought before the board in the shape of a preamble and resolutions by John Virgin, of Fairbury. They favor the claims of Chicago for the great world's fair in 1892. Mr. Virgin voices the public sentiment not only of this community but of the state. Perhaps it might be going too far to say the nation is with him, but if it isn't, it ought to be by the time the question is settled. If Chicago don't get the fair it will be no fault of the great city by the lake nor of the people of Illinois.

THE VANDERBILT SYSTEM OF RAILWAYS.

Few persons have any conception of the magnitude of the interests covered by the above title, and very few even among the railway fraternity are aware of how fully this vast system occupies the field in which it is located, but if you will take a map and trace out, first, the New York Central & Hudson River, second, the Boston & Albany, third, the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern fourth, the Michigan Central fifth the Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago & St. Louis (formerly the "Bee Line" and "Big Four") Railroads, you will be impressed with the wonderful foresight of the men who designed and executed the plan to operate under a uniform policy, and practically a common control, a system of railways that should furnish unsurpassed transportation facilities to the great commercial empire outlined above, and a trip over this system and connections will convince the most skeptical that the Vanderbilt system of Railways, of which the New York Central & Hudson River Railroad is the main stem, traverses the very heart of the business portion of this continent, touching, either directly or through its immediate connections all the important commercial centers of the country, and affording to health, pleasure and business travel facilities that are not equalled by any similar institution in the world.

An edition of one hundred thousand copies of very neat little pamphlet bearing the title at the head of this article has just been issued by the American Bank Note Company of New York, which contains much interesting information concerning the great system.

WRIGHTSON OR WRONGSON?

Short but Brilliant Career of a Chesky Young Swindler.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Aug. 15.—A young man named Sidney S. Wrightson, claiming to be the son of a very wealthy Londoner, came here about July 1, secured lodgings, and at once began to impose himself upon unsuspecting victims. He became engaged to the charming daughter of H. A. Paris, a leading real estate agent, ordered a wedding suit which was to have been donned at the wedding on September 8, contracted numerous other small debts, and is now missing. He left the city Monday, no one knows where. He proceeded to settle his bills by issuing checks on the Bank of Minneapolis, but it is found that he has no funds there, and the checks go unpaid.

DAILY REPUBLICAN.

DECATUR, ILLINOIS.

FRIDAY EVE., AUGUST 15, 1889.

THE way the citizens of Truckee, Ohio, succeeded in ridding their city of toughs was effective, but like a good many other things "it come high." Notices were posted up notifying all thieves, vagrants opium fiends and disreputable characters" to leave within 24 hours. They took the hint and went, but since then the business portion of the town was burned down in revenge, by some of the same gang, and yet, expensive as it was, the riddance was good.

IT seems that the chief obstacle in the way of a settlement of the miners' troubles at Spring Valley is Mr. William L. Scott, the Democratic congressman from Pennsylvania, who owns a large interest in the mines. Mr. Scott has been one of the most red-mouthed of the Democratic congressmen who has been shedding tears over the oppression of the laboring men by the Republican party, while he has been piling up his millions, but when it comes to a question of wages for the men who dig out the black diamonds, and when there is no question of tariff involved, he holds on to his pound of flesh with a grip that would do no discredit to the most insatiable of the tariff "robbers."

THOSE big feeling Atlanta folks, who couldn't bear the idea of having one negro clerk in their post office, seem to have entirely forgotten the fact that during the administration of the late Democratic postmaster there were five colored clerks employed in the office. The young white lady who resigned rather than remain as the equal of the colored clerk had not offered to resign during that time, so that it could have been because the colored clerk was a Republican. They could stand it to associate, in an official capacity, with black Democrats, but when it came to the same sort of association with a colored Republican it raised their gorge.

A New Depot for the Central.

Up in Chicago, which is a little larger town than Decatur, they have a good many subjects for the papers to talk about, and still more for the people to get excited over, but in one particular the people are just like those who live in Decatur they want a new depot, and it is the Illinois Central Railroad they are after to build it, which means that they will get what they want sometime towards the remote extremity of the Sweet By and By. The railroad referred to at one time had the finest depot in the city, but that was a long time ago. It stood near the mouth of the Chicago river and in close proximity to Lake Michigan. It had towering stone walls and an immense expanse of wooden roof. One night in the month of October, 1871, in common with a good many other mammoth structures in the city, it caught fire and its roof went up in flame while its solid stone walls melted like tallow. The Illinois Central Railroad was then, as now, a very "conservative" corporation. It was violently opposed to doing things with unseemly haste. It meant to rebuild its depot and promised to do so at an early day. But the months lengthened into years, and although the great fire was nearly eighteen years ago that unsightly ruin still reminds the traveler of that terrible night in October, which has now passed into ancient history. It is the only remaining landmark of the great fire, and the company which owns it does not seem to intend that coming generations shall forget it. But it promises to rebuild its depot. Its officers use the most promising men we know of, and if they live long enough they are liable to do something yet in their old age. And this action of theirs, or rather inaction, is so much like what they have promised and failed to perform in Decatur, that we are disposed to believe that "history repeats itself." If anybody doubts this just let him compare the two cases. Of the two cases that are so nearly parallel, ours has the advantage in one respect: the company even went so far as to draw plans for the new depot, and submit them to various people. Those plans lay around the Republican office quite awhile, and ornament the top of our desk at this moment, but, like the company that drew them, they are resting now. We do not know that the Chicago project ever got so far along. Probably it will reach the same stage a few years hence. If not we will be in the Chicago folks our plans, which might serve the Michigan Avenue property owners some good purpose, which they have not accomplished for us.

But the new Chicago depot, as well as the one in Decatur, will be built, for the railroad company has said so, and that ought to settle it.

The Prize-Fight Case.

PURVIS, Miss., Aug. 16. A jury was obtained in the Sullivan prize-fight case yesterday and the trial began. Sullivan pleaded not guilty. Major W. W. Robinson, a deputy sheriff, was the first witness. He described the fight and testified to seeing the money handled and the men hit and bruise one another. On cross-examination witness said that he could not swear that the case was in Marion County.

Foreman White of the grand jury gave similar testimony.

J. S. Holleman testified that he owned the land on which the fight occurred and knew it to be in Marion County. Witness was at the fight, but says it was a harmless affair, less serious than many an every day encounter.

J. Hinton, a grand juryman, and Sheriff Cowart testified to the leading facts concerning the fight.

The State then rested its case, and as there were no witnesses on the other side it was agreed that the case go over until to-day. The jurymen were locked up in the court-room for the night.

It Was the California Glendenin.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Aug. 16. The report that W. S. Glendenin, who shot Judge Flora, Wednesday, is really Charles Glendenin, who left Cincinnati for San Diego, is incorrect. W. S. Glendenin has resided in this county twenty years, and originally came from Nevada.

Distinguished Guests.

PUTNAM, Conn., Aug. 16.—Judge Walter Q. Gresham and Lieutenant-General John M. Schofield are spending a few days here as guests of John W. Doane, of Thompson, Conn.

Social Events.

Misses Laura and Stella Jenkins, daughters of Conductor and Mrs. Jenkins, very enjoyably entertained a large party of friends yesterday afternoon and last evening at their home, on East North street. The invitations read from three to eight o'clock. About six o'clock a delicious supper was spread. Among the older people present were Mrs. F. G. Smith and Mrs. Stevens, of Springfield, Mrs. Colter, of Litchfield, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Abbott, Mrs. H. F. Houghton, Mrs. Charles Snyder, Mrs. William Anderson, Miss Murphy, and Mrs. John A. Brown and mother.

MRS. E. PATTERSON'S RECEPTION.

Mrs. Philbrook entertained a party of friends yesterday afternoon from three to six o'clock, in honor of Mrs. W. T. McLean, of Mattoon, and Miss Fronie Whiting, of Janesville, Wis. Mrs. Philbrook was assisted in receiving by Mrs. by Mrs V. N. Bestedler and Mrs. J. L. Roach. The parlors were very beautifully decorated. The company included Mesdames L. P. Vail, E. F. Bobo, E. A. Gastman, A. T. Summers, E. F. Bishop, F. M. Curtis, J. E. Roach, O. E. Curtis, F. P. Roach, F. H. Hall, W. E. Nelson, Ed. Carter, M. M. Goodwin, Will Shellabarger, F. P. Page, Charles Musser, J. A. Merriweather and J. G. Stauffer, Misses Sloan, Babb, Buchanan, Vail, Steele, Gastman, Bliss, and Jennie Crouch, Miss Ella Young, of Mattoon, Paul Babb and Lulu Crocker, of Marion.

THE Democratic papers do not seem to have heard that the Hardenbergh Steel Company, which, by the way, is one of the largest establishments of its kind in the world, recently advanced the pay of its employes from 25 to 29 per cent. If there had been a cut of half that amount how they would have howled!

THE improved lands of some of the Southern Illinois counties are assessed at a little over $3 per acre, and unimproved lands at less than an average of $1.75 per acre. Moultrie county improved town and city lots are valued at only $62.49 on an average, and unimproved lots at $8.07 each. That's getting real estate values down pretty low. St. Clair county's improved lands have a higher valuation placed upon them than those of any other county $26.22 per acre, Morgan county ranks next $20.35 per acre; DuPage next $14.45 per acre; Cook next $19.07 per acre. Sangamon county's assessment $17,165,029, exceeds that of any county in the state, save Cook, LaSalle comes pretty near Sangamon's figures, but no other county comes within millions of them.

A Severe Storm.

LONG BRANCH, N. J., Aug. 16. The storm of Wednesday night washed the streets here badly. The sewers were reached in torrents down the hills, cutting gaps in several places.

At Ocean Beach, Sylvan lake overflowed its banks and flooded the avenues on all sides.

At Asbury Park the storm was the heaviest electrical storm that ever visited that section. The rainfall in torrents, and at midnight the water broke up into the houses west of the railroad track to the depth of six feet. Part of the railroad embankment was undermined. Fences and small buildings were swept away, and considerable other damage was done.

Death of Rev. Dr. S. Mattoon.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., Aug. 16. Rev. Dr. S. Mattoon, professor of theology at Biddle Institute, a large college for negroes, endowed by Northern people, and located here, died at the home of his son-in-law, Rev. E. W. Thomas, of Marion, O. Dr. Mattoon was elected president of Biddle Institute in 1870, and held that position until declining health compelled his relinquishment four years ago. He was born in Northern New York in 1809, and graduated at Princeton Theological Seminary. He spent twenty-four years as a Presbyterian missionary in Siam.

Made a Favorable Report.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Aug. 16. The committee of the Commissioner of Agriculture of the cotton-growing States made public their report yesterday. They report very satisfactory results in their conference with the New York Cotton Exchange regarding the substitution of cotton bagging for jute bagging, and they think that through the influence of the New York and New Orleans exchanges the matter will soon be taken out of the entire satisfaction of the cotton growers.

An Admirable National Song.

BOSTON, Aug. 16. John Boyle O'Reilly has awarded the Sennet in Truth's prize of $100 to Homer Greene, of Honesdale, Pa., for the words of an American song. There were over two hundred competitors for the prize. Mr. Greene's song is entitled "The Banner of the Sea," and Mr. O'Reilly says it possesses the elements of an acceptable National song. The publishers of The Truth will now offer a prize of $100 to be competed for by composers desirous to set Mr. Greene's words to music.

THE PRESIDENT.

Incidents of the Return Trip from Bar Harbor to Washington.

A Tour of Inspection of the Mill Yards at Manchester, New Hampshire.

Preparations for the Reception at Concord—A Series of Ovations, Etc., Etc.

MANCHESTER, N. H., Aug. 15.—The morning of President Harrison's last day in New England was marked by a leaden sky, and frequent showers; still the weather was not nearly so bad as that attending the trip from Bar Harbor. Yesterday forenoon the President, accompanied by Private Secretary Halford, Ex-Governor Chenoy, T. Jefferson Coolidge, Agent H. F. Straw, of the Amoskeag Mills; Captain Chas. H. Manning, superintendent of the Amoskeag Mills, and Agent S. N. Bean, of the Stark Mill, was driven through the narrow mill yards on a tour of inspection, which, owing to limited time was confined to the exteriors of the buildings. The employes greeted the party enthusiastically. The party was then driven to the station and boarded the special train. The visitors were met by a great crowd on the platforms and by a delegation from Concord comprising John C. Pearson and William H. McIlvell, of the Senate, and W. H. Greer, Robert M. Chamberlain, Colonel Converse, J. Smith, George B. Haley and Frank B. Kendrick, of the House of Representatives. There were also in the delegation Colonel J. C. Churchill, representing the Governor and Council; General Paul Lingard and General C. H. Hulburt, of the Governor's staff, and Hon. E. C. Shirely, of the Executive Council. The train departed amid the cheers of the crowd, President Harrison bowing his farewell from the rear platform.

At Concord, N. H.

CONCORD, N. H., Aug. 15.—The run from Manchester to Concord was a quick one, and was made without a stop. Preparations for the coming of the President had been generally made. The business blocks in Main street were quite generally decorated, and National flags were displayed across the driveway at frequent intervals. The Capitol and grounds presented a fine appearance. At the main entrances to the park was a large arch draped with the National colors, surmounted at the center by the President's name. The Government building at the rear of the Capitol was also adorned with bunting.

The President was met at the depot by Mayor Humphrey, Adjutant-General Ayling and the G. A. R. posts of Concord, Pemprook and West Concord, acting as escorts. The party were driven in hacks to the Capitol in a drizzling rain, which, however, did not dampen the enthusiasm of the shouting who lined the street.

The President was escorted to the Council Chamber and cordially greeted by Governor Goodell, members of his council, State officers and a large number of distinguished citizens assembled there. After much had been presented, the President was escorted to Doric Hall, where New Hampshire's battle-flags are kept. Here G. A. R. comrades were introduced and pleasantly greeted by the President. The introduction of the city dignitaries followed; after which, under escort of Governor Goodell, the President went to the Representative's Hall, where the Legislature had assembled in joint convention. The President was met by President Taggart of the Senate and Speaker Upton of the House, and escorted to the platform. Governor Goodell then said:

GENTLEMEN OF THE LEGISLATURE: The President of the United States. [Prolonged applause.] The President will be pleased to shake the hands of the members of the Legislature.

The officers of the Legislature then began arrangements for a personal introduction of the members to the President. Before they could carry out their purpose, however, the President arose and addressed the Legislature as follows:

Before that, I owe to thank you, gentlemen of the Legislature of New Hampshire, for the cordial greeting which you have extended to me this morning. I believe the framers of all our constitutions, as well as National, State and municipal governments separate the executive and the legislative departments of the government, and I am sure the careful framers of these instruments did not have in mind an executive like me, and I may meet you here the members of American citizens, charged as we are with the executive duties in the assurance that upon whatever lines we may differ, we will not be found to differ in the high and non-partisan purposes to serve the public and for which our State and National governments are organized.

After a drive, a collation was served at the Eagle house. Among the invited guests were United States Senators Blair and Chandler and Congressmen Kunto and Moore, Third Auditor of the Treasury Patterson, Governor Goodell, President-elect of the State Senate, Speaker Upton of the House, Mayor Humphrey of Concord, Mayor Farmer of Lowell and many State officials.

Before the President left the hotel, Colonel White invited him a pitcher belonging to Mrs. Benjamin Gale, from which President Monroe had drank lemonade when a rolling boy. President Harrison followed the precedent.

At 2:15 p. m. the presidential party left the hotel for the railroad station, the President being continually cheered by the people en route.

Fully three thousand persons were at the station when the 2:30 p. m. train pulled out, and there was prolonged cheering.

A Series of Ovations.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Aug. 16.—From Concord to Fall River the presidential trip was a series of ovations, the number being limited only by the stops that were made, and each having a peculiar characteristic of its own.

Nashua was the one city where, after Concord, the President left the train. Accompanied by Governor Goddell and other prominent men he was driven through the city from one depot to the other, under the escort of the Grand Army posts and militia, amid the usual demonstrations.

At Lowell an immense throng crowded the depot and buildings, and walls adjoining. Here he was presented to Congressman Allen, Postmaster Haggett and Mayor Palmer, and after a brief stop the train proceeded over the Framingham division of the Old Colony road. Stops were made at Medfield, South Framingham, Framingham, Coxboro, Mansfield and Taunton, and at each of them crowds greeted him. The principal crowd was at Lowell, however.

Mrs. Harrison.

NANTUCKET, Mass., Aug. 16.—Mrs. Harrison will leave here to-morrow at half-past twelve o'clock for New York, via the Fall River line. Geo. L. Connor, general passenger agent of the Old Colony line, will escort her from this place to Fall River. Mrs. Harrison expresses herself as much pleased with her visit here, especially because she has found welcome retirement.

VIRGINIA DEMOCRATS.

The Convention at Richmond, Va.—Nominated by Acclamation—The Platform.

RICHMOND, Va., Aug. 15.—The convention completed its labors by the nomination of John Hoge Tyler for Lieutenant-Governor by acclamation, R. Taylor Scott, of Fauquier, for attorney-general and the adoption of a platform. Mr. Basil B. Gordon, of Fredericksburg, was elected chairman of the State Democratic committee, in place of Hon. John S. Barbour, who resigned.

The platform congratulates the people of Virginia on the wisdom and success of Governor Lee's Administration; appreciates the re-opening of the State debt question; praises the Democratic party for having fostered the public school system of the State; favors immigration for building up and developing the agricultural resources of the State; opposes convict labor being placed in competition with free labor; declares in favor of fostering the oyster industry of the State; indorses the National Democratic platform on the internal revenue and tariff laws, and favors the immediate abolition of the tax on tobacco and fruit brandies.

It further favors the complete remonetization and free coinage of silver, and advocates a law placing the agricultural institutions of the State under the control of practical farmers.

It also recommends a revision of the laws imposing taxes on land, with a view to relieving any unjust or unequal taxation, and advocates an appropriation for disabled Confederate soldiers and widows.

The twelfth and last plank declares that Democratic and white supremacy in the State is paramount to the tariff or any other consideration.

IOWA REPUBLICANS.

They Complete the Business that Brings Them Together, and Adjourn.

DES MOINES, Ia., Aug. 15.—The Republican State convention, after balloting until midnight, resumed this morning, and on the twenty-fifth ballot Senator J. S. Hutchinson was nominated for Governor. He received 621 votes, or forty-three more than a majority. Senator Poynor was nominated for Lieutenant-Governor on the second ballot. Judge Joshua Given, for Supreme Judge; Henry Sabin, for State Superintendent, and Spencer Smith for Railroad Commissioner were nominated by acclamation.

The committee on resolutions reported the platform, which was unanimously adopted.

A resolution indorsing Pension Commissioner Tanner was adopted, and at half-past ten o'clock the convention adjourned.

New York Republican State Committee.

NEW YORK, Aug. 16. The Republican State committee yesterday, besides selecting Saratoga as the place, and September 25 as the date for the State convention, accepted the resignation of C. N. Bliss as chairman of the committee, and chose John N. Knapp, of Auburn, in his place.

The North Dakota Constitutional Convention.

BISMARCK, Dak., Aug. 16.—The Constitutional convention yesterday adopted the report of the committee on election franchise as reported back by the committee on revision. This in effect makes necessary to submit the question of woman's suffrage, other than the right to vote at all school elections, to a vote of the people.

The article on municipal corporations was adopted, the section providing that no city, town or villa e shall ever become subscriber to the capital stock or owner of the stock of any railroad or private corporation being stricken out.

The article on railroads and other corporations was discussed for several hours, the bone of contention being an amendment that the courts shall have the power to decide what are just and reasonable rates. An amendment providing that the rates fixed by the railroad commissioners or the Legislature should be in force, pending the decision of a court, was adopted. The convention unanimously adopted a resolution indorsing the proposition to hold the World's Fair in Chicago.

The Washington Territory Constitution-Makers.

OLYMPIA, W. T., Aug. 16.—The Constitutional convention spent the entire day in a discussion of the question of State sovereignty in the matter of tide lands. Only one vote was taken. It was on the general principle of State sovereignty and was largely in the affirmative. The question then came up on the conformity of patents issued by the United States Government to lands, part of which, possibly through error, is tide lands. It was argued that the United States had no right to grant patents to any part of the tide lands; that they belong to the State and have only been held by the Federal Government as a trustee. This position was generally admitted as a matter of law, but it was claimed that persons who in good faith have improved and built upon these lands have an equity right which should be recognized. The debate was still on when the convention adjourned.

Justice Field Resumes His Judicial Duties.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 16.—Justice Field resumed his judicial duties yesterday, and sat in the Circuit Court with Judge Sawyer and Judge D. J. Brower, of Kansas. He is still constantly under the protection of a deputy marshal, as is also Judge Sawyer.

United States Marshal Franks has received from Nagle the details of the affair. Nagle says he is confident that Terry drew back his hand after striking Justice Field for the purpose of pulling from his coat a knife he was presumed to have carried, as he once made affidavit that he always went armed. It is the theory of those about the United States Marshal's office that Mrs. Terry, when she threw herself on her husband's body, took a weapon from him. When the body was searched no weapon was found.

FROM WASHINGTON.

A Sudden Death That May Have Been the Result of a Beating.

A New Rule of Procedure in the Pension Bureau—A Modus Vivendi.

Working Up the Results of the Cruise—Charges Forwarded to the Accused—Appointed.

A Death That May Have Been Caused by a Beating.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16.—Theodore S. West, proprietor of the Langham Hotel here, formerly of Waukesha, Wis., and who commanded a Wisconsin regiment during the war, died at Asbury Park, N. J., yesterday. Colonel West had a quarrel on the 6th of last month with Sterling Ruffin, of North Carolina, a young clerk in the Treasury Department, during which the latter struck West with his umbrella, breaking his nose. He then knocked West down and pummeled him. West went to Asbury Park last Thursday, as his friends say, not having recovered from the effects of the injuries received in his fight with Ruffin. Ruffin was arrested yesterday afternoon, soon after the news of West's death reached the city, and held in $2,000 bail to await the developments of the coroner's inquest as to the cause of West's death. Colonel West's friends claim that his death resulted from the injuries received at the hands of young Ruffin.

A New Rule of Procedure in the Pension Bureau.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16. Commissioner of Pensions Tanner yesterday issued instructions to the chiefs of divisions in the Pension Bureau directing them hereafter not to take up for consideration any claim for re-rating of pension that is embodied in a declaration for an increase of pension. Such re-rating claims, the Commissioner says, must be made separately, and must state with particularity what ratings the pensioner believes to be inadequate and unjust, the grounds on which he bases such belief, and what he claims with regard to such ratings. This new rule of procedure he directs shall apply to all cases now on file.

A Modus Vivendi.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16.—Acting Postmaster-General Clarkson had a conference with Assistant Secretary Batchelder at the Treasury Department yesterday about the settlement of Government rates for Treasury Department telegraphic dispatches. Mr. Batchelder is authority for the statement that a modus vivendi has been agreed upon, but he refuses, at the request of the Postmaster-General, to make public any of the details.

Working Up the Results of the Cruise.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16.—Prof. C. H. Gilbert, who has acted as chief naturalist of the United States Fish Commission steamer Albatross, on the Pacific coast, since the 1st of January, has arrived in this city to work up the results of the cruise. Prof. Gilbert is from the University of Cincinnati, and has lately received the appointment of professor of zoology at the University of Bloomington, Ind.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Aug. 15.—The laborers of Hungarians in the Connellsville coke regions have demonstrated to the producers the necessity for a more peaceful element in the district. CHICAGO, Aug. 16.—The Louisville, New Albany & Chicago railroad has taken the initiative in reducing rates for the G. A. R. Encampment at Milwaukee to the basis of one cent per mile. THINGS YOU SHOULD KNOW.

THAT Our store is the place to buy Boots and Shoes at prices that defy competition. Our customers know it by experience and we invite the public to call and satisfy themselves that we are the people to do it.

THAT No matter which way the mercury jumps people can buy heavy or light clothing for everybody to wear for every month in the twenty-four hours.

THAT We can do nothing unnatural or impossible. We can't paint a cork so it will resemble a rock that will sink to the bottom of a tub of water, but that is all.

THAT We are selling all kinds of Boots, Shoes and Rubber Goods at prices which we guarantee are the lowest in this or any other city in the Union.

THAT We think the above argument should convince every man, woman and child that the place to buy Boots and Shoes is at FERRISS & LAPHAM, 148 East Main Street, the Decatur branch of the big Wholesale House of L. L. Ferriss & Co., Chicago.

END OF A LONG LIFE.

Death of Ambrose W. Palmer, Esq.

Ambrose W. Palmer died last night at his late residence, No. 359 West Decatur street, after an illness reaching back a number of years, but to which he did not yield until about four weeks ago, since which time he has been unable to leave his house. Squire Palmer was born in Rensellerville, Albany county, N. Y., October 2, 1811, and continued to reside in the same county until his removal to Decatur, about fifteen years ago. He was of revolutionary ancestry both of his grandfathers having served in the war for independence. At the age of 11 his father became blind, leaving the sole care of the family upon him. The burden he bravely undertook, caring for his father until his death six years afterwards, and for his mother, who died only seven years ago, at an advanced age. His three sisters, younger than himself, were the objects of his thoughtful care and attention during the time of their education and until their marriage and settlement. The energy and determination which enabled him to accomplish so much at such an early age, were but the characteristics which marked his whole life. A year or two prior to coming here, he suffered from a severe attack of illness and failed ever afterwards to regain his former vigor. He had been a very active business man prior to that time, but his illness left him with eyesight much impaired and symptoms of dyspepsia which never left him although he kept up with a spirit of bravery and determination that was characteristic of the man. In the spring of 1887 he was elected a justice of the peace, but did not attempt to do much business, on account of feeble health. What he did, however, was well done. His method and exactness of a lifetime of business characterizing his every act.

Mr. Palmer had been a Democrat in politics up until the rebellion since which he acted with the Republican and voted that ticket in all general elections although always styling himself a "War Democrat." He was a man of the most profound convictions in politics, and had opinions that could not be moved by any sort of persuasion. He was a man of most affable and engaging manners and was respected and beloved by all. He leaves a widow, who is a sister of Justice Bradley, of the Supreme court of the United States, and one daughter, Mrs. Chas. A. Ewing.

The funeral will be held at the residence to-morrow at 10 o'clock a. m. Rev. W. H. Priestley officiating.

THE Decatur Reds play the Monticello Maroons at the park next Sunday afternoon. Since Arcola did us up, nearly all of the jay clubs (and some of them play right good ball) want to come to Decatur and get a scalp. Will Monticello win? Denver Hays is playing with that aggregation of sluggers now, and so is Warrington, the fall pitcher who once belonged to the Decatur club.

An All-Day Picnic.

W. H. Bramble and family, O. N. Bramble and family, Ed. Bramble and family, A. F. Jenison and family, Frank Bunn and Miss Minnie Green, engaged in a highly enjoyable family picnic all day yesterday at the old Spanglo mill fishing pool. They went out in a hack early in the morning, and had dinner and supper in the grove and also plenty of band music, as there was a cornet, guitar, zither and a French harp in the accompanied music. The fishing was good and boating was a pleasant diversion. All got home late in the evening smiling and happy.

THE lawn fete given last night by the Daughters of Rebekah Lodge at the Lachinger residence attracted a large company of people who were regaled with fine music by the Light Guard Band and were served with refreshments by the light of the Japanese lanterns and the moon. The members of Canton Decatur in resplendent uniform, attended in a body, and went through the beautiful sword drill for the entertainment of the ladies and friends. The Cantons paraded the streets headed by the Light Guard Band. The receipts were large.

ALL those interested in the entertainment to be given by the ladies of the Presbyterian church are requested to meet at the residence of Mrs. J. J. Bering Saturday evening at 8 o'clock.

It Was a Big Meeting.

The Tazewell County Veteran Association reunion at Delavan yesterday was a grand success. The weather was all that could be desired, and the attendance from three to four thousand. Four hundred soldiers registered, and more than one thousand people were furnished with a splendid dinner, not of the substantials only, but of all manner of delicacies.

Addresses were made by Rev. Peter Wallace, chaplain of the Soldiers' Home, Commander J. S. Martin, Maj. Wimple, Rev. Bruner, Dr. McKinley, and others.

Miss Anna J. Jones, of Eureka, Ill., known as the "daughter of the 86th Mich regiment," gave a number of recitations in a very artistic and effective manner, which were highly appreciated by the large audience. The Lexington Quartette Glee Club entertained the people with several patriotic and humorous selections.

Maj. I. L. Hays and Adjutant A. Litzsenberger were Decatur's representatives of the 117th regiment. There were 11 other old veterans of the 115th present.

Another May Festival.

It is suggested by several citizens who remember the marked success of the great musical treat of nearly two years ago, that immediate steps should be taken to arrange for another May Festival the same to be produced in the new Grand Opera House, which is in every way adapted for such a grand affair as it will prove to be if properly managed as it was in 1888. On that occasion Mr. S. M. Lutz proved himself not only a good organizer but also a capital director. The fame and beauty of the Grand will go abroad in person and in the Decatur papers during the coming dramatic season, and not only the singers in other cities will possess a desire to see the new temple of music, but every lover of music for miles around will flock here and hail with pleasure the announcement that another grand festival is to be given. The REPUBLICAN hopes that our business men and public spirited citizens will move it once in the matter. An early decision is required as it takes time to arrange for rehearsals to come from surrounding towns all of whom have to be provided with music and drilled by the director. If singers from neighboring cities are asked to contribute their vocal talent to the festival they should be afforded first consideration at the homes of our people.

THE electric generators for the Citizens Company will arrive in Decatur to-morrow at 9 o'clock. We are assured that the cars will be in motion in a few days.

A Masonic Jaunt.

Last evening in buggies and carriages, W. H. Lucas, J. S. McClellan, W. Lowmaster, B. Rogers, J. D. Templeton, J. A. Davidson, T. W. Finkerton, C. L. Hovey, John Lilkin, O. B. Gorin, W. L. Hammers, F. C. Palmer, Charley Hughes, John Bixby, J. K. Munroe and I. A. Buckingham, members of Macon and Bone Lodges of Masons drove down to Harristown, and witnessed the conferring of degrees upon new members of the Harristown Lodge. C. L. Hovey and J. M. Janney, deputy grand lecturers, directed the work. The Harristown brethren met the visitors on the square and gave them hospitable entertainment.

They report a good attendance and an excellent time. Next year this meeting will be held at Kankakee, commencing the second Tuesday in August and continue three days. H. Schroeder of Quincy was elected president for the coming year, and Henry Smith was nominated as one of the candidates for member of the State Board of Pharmacy.

At the City of Tents.

The interest in the State Holiness camp meeting in progress at Oakland Park is increasing and the altar services are productive of many converts. Dr. Inskeep occupied the platform last night and had a large congregation. This afternoon Dr. J. H. Smith delivered a sermon. To-night Dr. Jones and J. A. Wood, of California, will be the preacher in charge of the meeting.

Band Contest Score.

In the write up of the recent band contest at Lincoln, in which the Monitor band of Decatur waxed the Lincoln band, the Herald of that city gives the following score:

The marks showed that the Decatur band won the contest and prize of $25 by 184.5 per cent, getting 92.1-5, while Lincoln got 73 1-5 out of a possible 100. The Lincoln band is only seventeen months old, and the Decatur men are said to be old musicians. They left town at 8 o'clock and were met at the depot by the celebrated Goodman band, which escorted them up town.

Yes, the Monitor boys are old musicians just about a year old in regular practice but nevertheless when they come to playing for a prize they get there just the same. Put up another $25, and we'll come over after it.

EUCHRE will be a sociable at the Christian church next Tuesday evening, Aug. 20th. Refreshments will be served.

Mr. R. R. Montgomery, member of the insurance and real estate firm of Montgomery & Shull, will soon let the contract for a new frame dwelling of modern style, to be erected on his 80x166 foot lot at the corner of West Prairie and Pine streets. An allusion was made to this improvement a few days ago. It will cost nearer $7,000 than $5,000, when completed, and will be one of the most strikingly beautiful homes of solid comfort in the city. It will have an oriel tower above the second story, 8 large rooms, besides those in the attic, a slate roof, a wide drive way on the east with a porte cochere, or covered drive way and landing at the rear of the parlor, a wide veranda in front, and a beautiful lawn with concrete walks front and back. It will be heated with an improved furnace and will have inside blinds, including all of the modern conveniences. The woodwork will be hard finish.

The height of the first story is 10 feet, second story 9 feet and 6 inches cellar under whole house 7 feet deep, brick foundation.

The first story will contain a vestibule 5x5 feet, stair hall 11x11 feet, with fire place, parlor on east side, 13'6x18'6, sitting room on west side 11'6x16 feet, with fire place and bay window, dining room on west side, 11x15 feet, kitchen 12x16 feet, pantry 9'x10'6, front and back stairs. The second story will contain family chamber 11'6 x 15 feet with dressing room and fire place, front chamber 12'6x18 feet, side chamber, 11'6x15 feet, bath room, 8'6x9 feet, servant's room, 9x16 feet, attic floored with space for three large rooms, which may be finished off in time. A stairway will lead to the attic.

A new barn on the alley is nearly finished. It is 24x36 feet in size and has box stalls.

Mr. Montgomery and family will occupy the old dwelling until the new one is completed.

THE DIAMOND CUTTERS.

HOW THEY WORK AND WHAT THEY EARN IN NEW YORK CITY.

One Hundred Men Who Make High Wages at the Nice Work—Something About the Method of Grinding and Polishing the Beautiful Stones.

The fifteen diamond cutting concerns of New York polish 10,000 carats of rough diamonds each year, rather more than the annual output of the Brazilian mines. One hundred skilled workmen are employed in the trade, and the bosses say that the diamond cutters of New York are the best in the world. The business has grown up within ten or fifteen years, but already most of the apprentices are native Americans. A clever lad beginning the trade at 15 may become a skilled workman in five or six years. The best diamond cutters under favorable conditions earn from $40 to $60 a week. These are better wages than those earned by any save the most famous foreign diamond cutters. Workmen here are more intelligent and trustworthy than those of Holland, France or England, the chief diamond cutting countries of Europe. Theft is common abroad, but unusual here.

KEEPING THE RECORDS.

In looking about a diamond cutting establishment one would hardly suspect the precious character of the material in use. The floors are bare, the windows are open, and any one may enter by the door unchallenged. Much is trusted to the honesty of the workman, but some simple precautions are taken. When a diamond cutter receives an invoice of stones he carefully studies each one, and takes note of its color, size, weight and shape. The white ones look like bits of clear alum, the darker like crushed quartz. The rarest and costliest stones are of sky blue, pink and black. Ordinarily, however, the pure water colored diamond without tint or flaw is most sought after.

When the boss cutter has made memorato record of his rough diamonds he divides them into groups of four or five and gives a group to each workman. From that time forth the man to whom they are intrusted is responsible for the stones. He returns them each night to the boss, and the progress of the work is carefully noted. In this way it is made extremely difficult for fraud to be practiced. A cutter is seldom permitted to polish a stone belonging to any one but the boss. Doubtless the workman would be careful to avoid confusion, but mistakes might arise. Now and then a clever substitution is managed, and once in a long while outright theft is committed.

The first work done upon the rough diamond is cleaving. The stone is placed in a peculiar cement that softens easily and hardens quickly. A little notch on the line of cleavage is made with another diamond, the edge of an old razor is placed in this notch, and with a smart blow of the hammer the diamond is split. Of course, when a diamond can be worked whole it is not split. After cleaving comes cutting. The diamond is placed in a little mass of cement on the end of a stick, and scraped with another diamond similarly imbedded. The cutter has six points presented to him, and he begins with the one that seems most promising. His choice decides which shall be the upper surface of the diamond, for in the "brilliant" cutting, which is the most difficult and the one almost generally practiced here, the exposed surface is slightly flattened, while the under side runs to the apex of a pyramid. In this way eight or ten facets are made.

From the cutter the stone goes to the grinder or polisher, who patiently turns it and turns it until the swiftly whirling wheel has cut upon the surface fifty-eight tiny facets. These fifty-eight facets appear upon every diamond cut as a brilliant, whether it be a ten carat stone as broad as your thumb nail, or a tiny spark not bigger than two pin heads. Now and then a stone is spoiled in the polishing; sometimes one is found that cannot be made to shape itself into the fifty-eight facets. The wheel on which the stones are polished is a soft iron disk lined with innumerable curved rays running from center to circumference. This is sprinkled with diamond dust and sweet oil. The moment a scratch appears on the wheel the diamond must be removed to some other part of the surface.

The finished stone comes from the wheel covered with gummy oil, but a ten minute bath in sulphuric acid leaves the surface clean and brilliant. Diamonds pendant from pearly ears or shining on snowy throats never look so beautiful as they look unset and heaped together upon oiled paper at the diamond cutter's.

Nothing is wasted at the diamond cutter's. Bort, which is the name given to diamond chippings that cannot be polished, is placed in a steel mortar exactly like an old-fashioned churn and brayed into powder for the polisher. Not a single carat is lost, for the mortar is dust proof and the pestle fits so close that the particles cannot rise from the bottom.

Sometimes stones are injured in the setting. Perhaps an accidental blow breaks a bit the corner, perhaps too much heat clouds the surface. Diamonds thus injured, however, may be repaired. As a matter of fact, the diamond is almost indestructible. It loses nothing by long wearing, and acids cannot injure it. The prevalent idea that soap and water dim the luster of the diamond is a mistake. —New York Sun.

A Polish Election Dodge.

At an election in Poland the other day a smart young candidate tried a maneuver which almost deserved to succeed for its ingenuity. Nearly all the peasants were against him, and the problem was how to prevent them from voting. The interval is very short between the time when they leave off work and the closing of the polls, so that at the last half hour a great crowd was waiting. Suddenly there was a cry of "Fire" and a rattling of engines. But the ruse did not succeed, the stolid countrymen first waiting to record their vote, and then hurrying off to discuss the conflagration.—London Globe.

A Woman's Discovery.

"Another wonderful discovery has been made and that too by a lady in this county. Disease fastened its clutches upon her; for seven years she withstood its severest tests, but her vital organs were undermined and death seemed imminent. For three months she coughed incessantly and could not sleep. She bought of us a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption and was so much relieved on taking the first dose that she slept all night, and with one bottle has been miraculously cured. Her name is Mrs. Luther Lutz." Thus write W. C. Hamrick & Co., of Shelby, N. C. Get a free trial bottle at Dr. A. J. Stoner's Drug Store.

Stonewall Jackson.

"I am just in from Lexington, where I have been attending the annual commencement of the Virginia Military institute." The speaker was Governor Fitzhugh Lee. "Yes, 'Stonewall' Jackson was once a professor at the institute, and the latter is still redolent of his eccentricities. I know him well, and he was the last man you would have picked out of a crowd of military men, not knowing who he was, as possessing wonderful energy, endurance and executive ability. It was only in the heat of action that these characteristics flamed out. At other times he was dull, uncommunicative and apathetic. In the parlance of the day he was a 'crank' in many things, but a terribly earnest one. When a professor at the institute he was the butt of the students' jokes. Yes, he was religious. He was known in the army as the 'Blue Light Elder.' Gen. J. R. Jones was his classmate at West Point and was noted for his profanity. One day, in the battle of Chancellorsville, some mules attached to our ammunition wagon got 'stalled' and finally got balky under the lash. Jackson was looking on when Jones rode up. The latter took in the situation at a glance.

"'See here, Jackson,' he shouted, 'let me cuss 'em.' Jackson smiled, but demurred by shaking his head. While Lee's army was crossing the Potomac into Maryland some of the mule teams refused to leave the water. Col. Harmon, Jackson's quartermaster, rode into the water and poured volley after volley of curses and lashes on the mules, and got them to moving again. Jackson sat on his old sorrel taking it all in. Harmon, on perceiving him, quickly rode up with the apology:

"'I beg your pardon, general, but cusses and blows are the only language that a mule understands.'"—Washington Letter.

One of Henry Ward Beecher's Pranks.

When Mr. Beecher was a student in Amherst college he was given to pranks, as most collegiates are. Once his tutor, who was over six feet tall and solemn in appearance, came to his room to expostulate with him for what he considered the boy's frivolous ways. Mr. Beecher was expecting the visit and had put into the wood closet all the chairs except one, which had been sawed off at the joint and stood about a foot from the ground; then he crawled through the hole in the student's table and, seated meekly among his books, awaited the visit. Finally, a grave tap was heard and a solemn face appeared way up in the air.

Mr. Beecher rose and made as if he would show him to a seat.

"Don't move for me the world," said the professor; "I only called to have a little conversation with you."

"Certainly," said Mr. Beecher, "pray sit down," at the same time indicating the only chair.

The tutor looked at the low seat with some uncertainty and then commenced the process of sitting down. He went down, down, but not striking anything said he straightened himself up again.

"Let me get you another chair," said Mr. Beecher.

"No," said the tutor; "I like a low seat," and with this the tall man doubled himself like a jackknife and was soon seen with his grave face between his knees like a grasshopper drawn up for a spring. When the eyes of the student and those of the solemn tutor met all gravity gave way in consequence of the extreme ludicrousness of the scene, and both joined in a hearty laugh.—Brooklyn Union.

Haymaking in Finland.

A curious way of making hay is very generally adopted by the Finns. Poor men who own no meadows have long been accustomed to cut what grass they can find in the forest glades and other waste lands. Owing to the lack of roads and farmsteads the hay was stuffed among the branches of neighboring trees to await the winter frosts and snow, when it could easily be carried off by sledges. After a wet season some farmers noticed that this was actually better in quality than that which they themselves had made from much better grass. The wild crop, so to call it, had dried much better in the tree branches exposed to a free circulation of air than the rich herbage which had lain long on the sodden ground. Hence it occurred to them to make temporary trees upon which their own crops might be dried.

This experiment was attended with such success that the plan has been widely imitated and bids fair entirely to supplant the old fashioned methods. After the mowing is done a number of poles about ten feet in length and provided with long transverse pegs are set up at intervals and the grass is loosely heaped upon them. The result is said to be excellent. Even in wet weather only a small portion forming the outside of the pile is discolored, while the inner portions, exposed to the air beneath and protected from the rain above, are dried in perfect condition. Mowing can be carried on in spite of wind and rain, and when once the grass is placed upon the drying poles it may be left without fear of serious damage until the weather changes.—Mark Lane Express.

"General."

With all their democratic theories and feelings, Americans are not a whit behind the rest of the world in a fondness for honorary titles.

When Samuel C. Pomeroy, afterward Senator Pomeroy, was on his way from Massachusetts to settle in Kansas, his traveling companion, a man familiar with western customs, said to him:

"Pomeroy, a man on the frontier is nobody without a handle to his name. You must certainly have one of some kind or other."

Mr. Pomeroy declared that he was not entitled to any, but his friend persisted:

"You were once a member of the Massachusetts general court, weren't you?"

"Yes."

"Well, that will answer perfectly."

The new comer was accordingly introduced as "Gen. Pomeroy," and as long as he lived he was known by that title. —Youth's Companion.

Living characterizes these modern days. The result is a fearful increase of Brain and Heart Diseases—General Debility, Insomnia, Paralysis, and Insanity. Chloral and Morphia augment the evil. The medicine best adapted to do permanent good is Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It purifies, enriches, and vitalizes the blood, and thus strengthens every function and faculty of the body.

"I have used Ayer's Sarsaparilla, in my family, for years. I have found it invaluable as

"For some time I have been troubled with heart disease. I never found anything to help me until I began using Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I have only used this medicine six months, but it has relieved me from my trouble, and enabled me to resume work."—J. P. Carsanett, Perry, Ill.

You should read THE DAILY NEWS. If you are your own editor it doesn't stand in the way. It's really the cheapest thing on earth. One cent means practically nothing—until you spend it. Then you may make it mean a great deal, according as you invest it. A thing is cheap if it costs little, and is worth much. THE DAILY NEWS is like a telegraph from the whole world to your brain. To keep it in constant working order costs you but one cent a day. That's why it's clean—because it renders a great service for an insignificant price.

Remember—Its circulation is over 9,000 a day—over a million a week—and it costs by mail 75 cents a month, four months $3.00,—one cent a day.

The North Dakota Constitutional Convention.

BISMARCK, Dak., Aug 15.—At Tuesday evening's session the chief point of discussion was the black-list section, which the committee on revision recommended be stricken out. The report of the committee prevailed, and the section was stricken out.

The convention yesterday adopted the report of the committee on departments. The report of the committee on executive was adopted as a part of the constitution. It provides among other things that the Governor shall receive $3,000 per year, and that the remainder of the State officers shall receive $2,000 per year, with the exception of the Lieutenant-Governor and the Commissioner of Agriculture, the former to receive $1,000, and the compensation of the latter to be fixed by the Legislature.

The report of the committee on judicial department was being considered when the convention adjourned, to meet again in evening session. It is predicted that the convention will adjourn sine die Friday night.

Leaving Bangor.

BATH, Me., Aug. 15.—The President left Bangor early yesterday morning, and was greeted at the various stations on the way by considerable crowds. On reaching here the party were driven to Mr. Arthur Sewall's residence for luncheon and afterwards taken around the city to visit the various sights, including the shipping. The train left for Manchester about five o'clock. Before leaving, the President made a few remarks to the people from the custom-house steps.

The Old River-Land Trouble Revived.

FT. DODGE, Ia., Aug. 15.—The old river-land trouble was revived by the arrest of three settlers yesterday, charged with malicious trespass. C. C. Intermill, Alfred Walsh and W. Intermill were lodged in jail for returning to their farms, from which they were evicted, and securing the hay crop. They will be tried Saturday.

A Rear-End Collision.

READING, Pa., Aug. 15.—At a curve on the Reading railroad near Hamburg, yesterday, the Williamsport express ran into the rear end of a freight train standing on the track. Seven cars of the freight train were completely wrecked. There were sixty passengers on the express train, but no one was hurt.

Shot by Moonshiners.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Aug. 15.—At Carbon Hill, Walker County, Superintendent C. P. Seymour, of the Kansas City Coal and Coke Mines, was shot from ambush while riding on horseback. Some time since he brought several officers to Carbon Hill to stop illicit distilling, and it is supposed that the moonshiners shot him.

A Determined Suicide.

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 15.—Ferdinand Bauer, aged thirty-two, a German barber, committed suicide yesterday morning. He placed a 41-caliber revolver at his head and a 32-caliber at his heart and fired, both shots taking effect.
